DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 22 and 24-25 and 44-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 5,497,938 (McMahon) in view of US 5,266,132 (Danen) and US 3,729,046 (Kennedy). McMahon teaches providing a substrate having openings in depth equal to the layer (figure 4b, item 48) and having solder balls inserted within the tape, where the solder balls will change into a melt and will be propelled, or will be moved forward, onto the substrate when heated (figure 4c, item 42); where the holes are mechanically pressed (col. 4, ll. 30-55); Danen teaches using a reactive multilayer foil as a replacement for heat (col. 1, ll. 35-50). Kennedy teaches depositing and separating a foil from a substrate (col. 1, ll. 1-20). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify tape of McMahon to utilize the reactive multilayer foil in order to provide heat to reflow the solder (see Danen col. 1, ll. 5-65); and further to modify the combined invention of McMahon and Danen to utilize depositing and subsequently removing the multilayer foil on the substrate in order to effectively manufacture the foil (see Kennedy col. 1, ll. 1-50).

Claim Allowance

Art Unit: 1725

Claim 23 is allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record does not suggest or teach a method of making a reactive foil, particularly the depositing and separating in combination with the patterning and etching.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Response to Arguments

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986). In the instant case, It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the tape of McMahon to utilize the reactive multilayer foil in order to provide heat to reflow the solder (see Danen col. 1, ll. 5-65); and further to modify the combined invention of McMahon and Danen to utilize depositing and subsequently removing the multilayer foil on the substrate in order to effectively manufacture the foil (see Kennedy col. 1, ll. 1-50).

Applicant next argues that Kennedy teaches away from a process that produces pinholes. While the examiner agrees, the examiner notes that this teaching relates to electrical capacitors and cannot be broadly accepted as a general teaching away of forming an opening. "The use of patents as references is not limited to what the patentees describe as their own inventions or to the problems with which they are concerned. They are part of the literature of the art, relevant for all they contain.” In re Heck, 699 F.2d 1331, 1332-33, 216 USPQ 1038, 1039 (Fed. Cir. 1983) (quoting In re Lemelson, 397 F.2d 1006, 1009, 158 USPQ 275, 277 (CCPA 1968)). A reference may be relied upon for all that it would have reasonably suggested to one having ordinary skill in the art, including nonpreferred embodiments. Merck & Co. v. Biocraft Laboratories, 874 F.2d 804, 10 USPQ2d 1843 (Fed. Cir.), cert. denied, 493 U.S. 975 (1989). See also Celeritas Technologies Ltd. v. Rockwell International Corp., 150 F.3d 1354, 1361, 47 USPQ2d 1516, 1522-23 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (The court held that the prior art anticipated the claims even though it taught away from the claimed invention. “The fact that a modem with a single carrier data signal is shown to be less than optimal does not vitiate the fact that it is disclosed.”

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1725
